DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1993, wish to use our Yearbook dedication as a means of saying thank you to the person we feel has given us much more than is required and expected of a staff member. We have benefited greatly through our association with you. Your pleasant, helpful manner, good humor, optimism, and professionalism have been sincerely appreciated. Our years at Woburn High would not have been as enjoyable and worthwhile without you.

We dedicate the 1993 INNITOU to:

To the Class of 1993--

First, my congratulations to each graduate and their family on this important event in your lives as you complete a most important chapter of educational success.

While congratulating each of you, I issue a challenge that you contribute back to your community your talents to help our schools and city grow stronger. The importance of your school system as a true mark of the quality within the community must always be of the greatest priority.

Totally shifting topics may I stress the importance of your family and friends to your lives. Too often we take for granted those so close to us. You will find that your family becomes a beacon of strength especially in times of adversity. Also good friends that you have grown close to in your school years should always remain part of your extended family, which will grow as you enter the colleges across this country or proceed into the world of work.

Remember always that you have a great opportunity to achieve tremendous success in your lives as long as you set your goals and always strive to reach them.

Sincerely,

Paul J. Andrews

Congratulations to the members of the Class of 1993. It is a pleasure to share this occasion of your graduation and extend heartiest best wishes for continued success.

As high school students, you exercised care and concern for each other and contributed to the well being of yourselves and school. As high school graduates, you must continue to nurture this spirit of mutual concern, respect, and understanding as responsible citizens in our democratic society.

Daniel Webster once wrote, "Nothing will ruin the country, if the people themselves will undertake its safety and welfare; and nothing can save it, if they leave that safety and welfare in any hands but their own."

The challenge of the future is great.

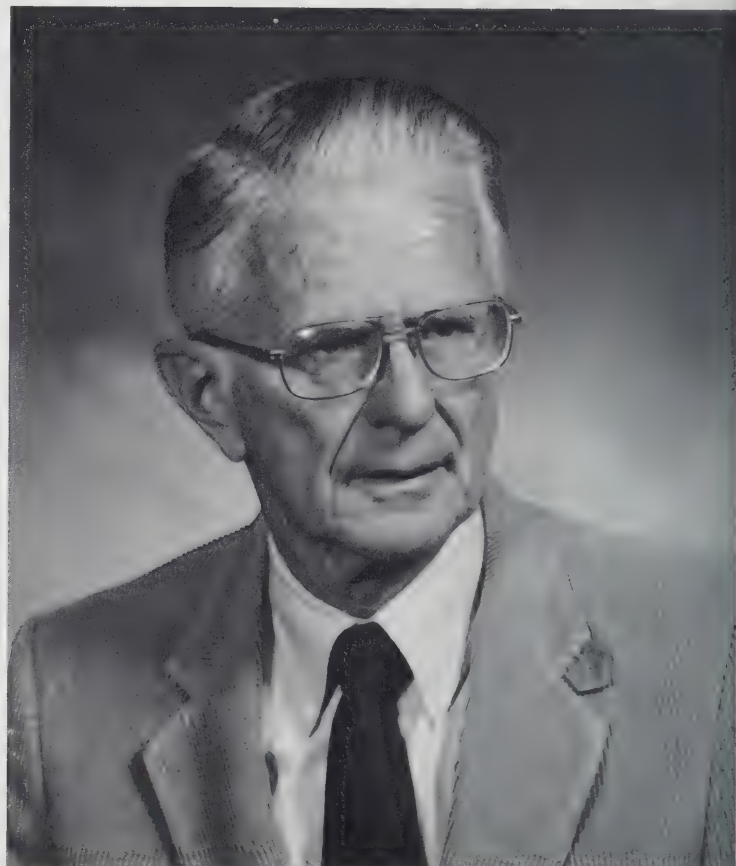

You are its strength.
